

Title: More About Molecular Hydrogen

Department of Chemistry, Stanford University., CA, 94305-5080

richard.zare@stanford.edu

Abstract:

Using Stark induced adiabatic Raman passage, my research group is able to prepare significant populations of molecular hydrogen in high vibrational-rotational levels in a molecular beam. The method will be described and preliminary results from collisional scattering experiments will be presented.